

(c) Pipe vice

It is used for holding the round section, pipes, tubes, etc. It has got a vertical movable screws which moves up and down while tightening and loosening.

(d) Hand vice

It is used for gripping small object. It consists of two steel legs hinged together at the bottom two steel jaws at the top of the vice such as key, screw etc. which are small to be gripped in a bench vice.

(e) Pin vice

A pin vice consists of a handle and a collet chuck. The chuck contains jaws are operated by rotating the handle. A pin vice is used for holding the objects of very small diameter. Eg - wire, pin etc.

2. Marking Tools

(a) Surface Plate

The surface plates are made of grey cast iron. This is used for testing the true surface of finished surface and it is also used for marking out the job. This is used for small pieces of job while marking out table is used for large jobs.

(b) Scribers

It is the pieces of hardened steel, these are pointed at both the ends. It is used for scribing the line on the